LoveColors – A New Concept in Dating

A review by Glenrock Bird contributor Susan R. Stoltz

I know what you're thinking - All we need is another on-line dating site. If you've had some of the experiences I've had you would roll your eyes and quickly move on to another article. But LoveColors is different both in structure and in purpose. It deserves a look-see.

Most on-line dating sites require a customer to fill out a profile, upload fifteen-year old photos and expect that you'll find someone to love the rest of your life. Not so with this new endeavor. Their objective is to create an experience that is fulfilling and enlightening, and offer more than simple, random matching.

LoveColors.com is based on the work of founder and creator, Pamala Oslie, author of Life Colors and Love Colors. She offers expert insight based on twenty-seven years of successful coaching and helping people create, nurture and preserve their relationships. As most of us would agree, the more you know about yourself, the more you have to offer in a relationship. The philosophy that LoveColors is based upon is that the better you know yourself, your personality and the needs, priorities and motivations of your unique traits the more successful you will be finding your most compatible partner.

LoveColors is unique in that it provides a methodology to match people based on aura color compatibility. People have energy, an aura, which reveals their unique qualities. The different aura colors reveal specific personality traits and characteristics - some colors are more compatible than others. LoveColors matches couples based on the personality traits and qualities of those different aura colors. The on-line quiz the site provides, similar to the Meyers-Briggs personality testing, reveals your predominant colors. LoveColors also provides instructional videos in which Pamala Oslie, renowned author and psychic, explains the traits of each color and clarifies which colors are most compatible.

The site is easy to navigate and populated with individuals that create a vibrant community of people all seeking the same thing: a safe, nurturing, progressive internet dating service. LoveColors members represent a diverse cross section of people around the world. They are people who share common goals; are gay and straight; are your friends, neighbors and co-workers; and who live near and far.

Although LoveColors is one of the newest online dating singles sites, there are already great friendships developing and people finding new love. Who knows, you may just find the love of your life!

Pamala Oslie - Founder of LoveColors
